

DO YOU REMEMBER THE DAY?

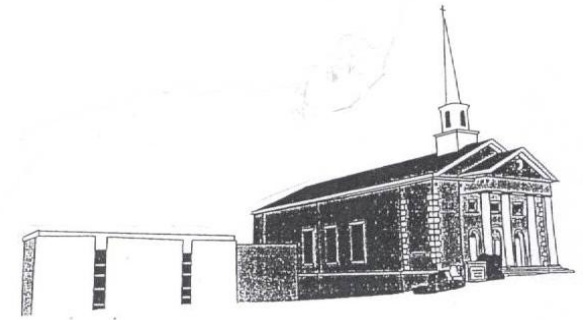

Have you ever thought about the fact that most of our “special” days are observed in remembrance of an important event? We mark the day of our birth every year with a birthday celebration. We celebrate wedding anniversaries. In our cultural calendar, we mark the “birth” of our country on Independence Day. In the Christian calendar, our most important seasons are built around the birth and resurrection of Jesus. We observe all of these days annually in order to remind us of days and events that have transformed our lives. We retell the story through these observances and celebrations so that we do not forget, and so that our children will know their heritage and might add their chapter to the book of generations.

Which leads me to ask: how much do we value our baptism? If I were to ask you, could you tell me, without hunting to find your baptism certificate, the date of your baptism? Why do we not make more of an effort to retell the story of that day—if, indeed, it represents a day of ultimate spiritual significance for us? Perhaps you have had a different experience than I; if so, I would love to hear about it. I know that some churches encourage families to devote time to celebrating the anniversary of a child’s baptism—just as you celebrate the anniversary of their birth on the same date. But my experience of five-plus decades in Baptist churches has given me this conviction: we do not celebrate/remember/reaffirm our baptism enough. We would all benefit greatly by taking time each year to recall the circumstances that led us to the waters of baptism. We need to remember those saints who invested in us so long ago, and to recall those things, not only for our own sake—but so that our children and others will know the story of our coming to faith. Just as children need to hear stories of our childhood, our parents and grandparents, the joys and heartbreaks that have made our family who we are—they need to hear us tell, in our own words, what caused us to commit to following Jesus.

In the Christian calendar, this Sunday is Baptism of Our Lord Sunday. At Hardwick Baptist, we will take part in a time of remembering and reaffirming our baptism. If you have never attended such a service, I believe you will find it meaningful. In advance of Sunday, I encourage you to take time “remembering that day.” Maybe even write down some of the memories that are fading. Let us come to worship prepared for God to “jog our memory.” And let us listen for that voice that reminds us. You are my beloved child, in whom I take great joy. Now, that is worth remembering!! See you Sunday.

Love and Blessings! Doug

Every Morning lean thine arms awhile
Upon the windowsill of heaven
And gaze upon thy Lord.
Then, with the vision in thy heart,
turn strong to meet thy day.
